

LOCAL NEWS.

DEATH OF MR. KAVANAUGH.—We mentioned yesterday, the death of Mr. Patrick Kavanagh, the clerk of the steamer Columbia. He was a native of Ireland, but came to this country when quite a young man. He was constantly engaged as a clerk on steamboats running on the Potomac, and for near, or quite, 30 years, held the position on the Columbia which he occupied when he died. He was popular and efficient, and secured the respect and confidence of all who knew him. The following particulars of his death, and deserved tribute to his memory, we copy from the Baltimore American: "The steamer Columbia, Capt. Harper, came up the bay on Thursday morning with her flag at half mast, thus announcing the death of Mr. Patrick Kavanagh, which occurred on board at seven o'clock that morning, about an hour before she reached her wharf, on her way from Washington to this city. Mr. Kavanagh was favorably known to our business community, having been purser of the steamer Columbia, and the old steamer Fredericksburg which preceded her, for thirty consecutive years, never losing a trip, on either boat during that long period, having thus literally 'lived in harness.' He left the city on Saturday last suffering somewhat from cholera morbus, and after his arrival at Washington grew rapidly worse. Being in too weak a condition to be removed from the boat, his wife and children were telegraphed for, and whilst coming up the Patuxent yesterday he breathed his last. Dr. Moran, of Washington, accompanied him, and everything that affection and medical skill could suggest for his relief proved of no avail. He had reached the age of sixty-three, and was but a few days since the picture of health, with the promise of a long continuance of his active life."

Mr. Kavanagh maintained through life a high character for probity and honor. He was generous to a fault, and prompt in his response to all appeals for charity. To his last moments he was esteemed by his employers as worthy of the unlimited confidence they had always reposed in him. He had become the representative man of the line, and along the Potomac he was known and esteemed by the residents, who for a generation back have been accustomed to travel with him. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two children, and hosts of friends throughout the city, and Maryland and Virginia, who will miss his genial and kindly greeting."

TROTTING MATCH.—The trotting match between the horse Gen. R. E. Lee, owned by Mr. George W. Harrison, of the city, and three horses of Washington, for $1,000, on the National race course yesterday evening, was won by the former easily in three heats, time 2:56, 2:57 and 2:51. It was an excellent race although the track was muddy. TELEGRAPH NEWS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.] FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—3 30 p. m. CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. McCreary, of Ky., introduced a bill to remove the disabilities from a number of K. K. members.

The names of Geo. Gustavus W. Smith and Bazil Duke were stricken out, and the bill was about to pass when a member from S. C. moved to strike out all after the enacting clause of McCreary's bill, and insert in place thereof the general bill of the committee on disabilities, containing some 6,000 names including those published in the Gazette some weeks ago.

Mr. McCreary feared this would empty the passage of his bill.

Much debate ensued.

Mr. Drake offered the following amendment: "Provided that nothing herein contained shall operate to relieve from said disabilities any of such parties as may have held office in violation of the 14th amendment."

Mr. Thurman opposed the amendment saying that every Senator was aware that there were two interpretations to the words "executive or judicial officers of any State," some insisting that it means only general State officials, and others holding that it extended to county and municipal officers.

Mr. Morton said that those who held office to which they were disqualified had perjured themselves.

The debate was continued and at its conclusion the bill known as the General Disability bill, including the names of 2,500 Virginians passed. The bill has yet to go to the House.

In the House of Representatives the Liver and Harbor bill was taken up and the following among other Senate amendments encountered it.

For the improvement of the Potomac river between the Long Bridge above Washington and the city of Georgetown $50,000.

For the improvement of the James river in Virginia and the removal of bars and obstructions below Richmond, including Harrison's bar at the junction of the James and Appomattox rivers—$50,000.

The bill was passed and now goes to the President.

Foreign News. PARIS, July 8.—The Spanish question still causes much uneasiness, though the feeling this morning is somewhat more assuring than last evening.

There were transactions at the Bourse at eleven o'clock last night, rates touching 70 francs 14 centimes, the lowest figures that have been made for years.

The Bourse opened a shade firmer this morning, rates 70 francs 35 centimes.

The Constitutionnel, an Imperial organ, announces to day that Senor Olazaga, the Spanish Minister, has received instructions from Spain to give official notice to the French Government of the candidature of Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern.

The Constitutionnel adds: "When France becomes convinced of the persistence of Spain in this matter she will terminate diplomatic relations with her."

No definite intelligence has been received from Prussia, but France will not be content with an evasive declaration of Count Von Bismarck that Prussia ought in the interest of the peace of Europe, to withhold her consent for Hohenzollern to sit upon the throne of Spain.

From the Semi official Journals this morning are gathered the following details touching the candidature of the Prince of Hohenzollern: Gen. Prim meant hostilely when the Spanish Government notified the Great Powers of Europe of Hohenzollern's candidature for the 3d of July.
